LUSITANIA
OUT TO BREAK
OWN RECORD

By Boston American's Special Wire.
STEAMER LUSITANIA, 8 P. M., Oct. 6, by Western Telegraph, by way of the Lizard, Eng., Oct. 7.—The Lusitania, which left Queenstown at 10:25 a. m. today for New York, was approximately in latitude 51.05 degrees north and longitude 15.08 degrees west at 9 p. m. today. From Queen's Head, the steamer had averaged 23.30 knots and was 207 nautical miles from that point. The wind was westerly, rain was falling, and a heavy sea was running. It is understood that the Lusitania is attempting to make a record, and the circulation of the steamer, on her record-breaking maiden voyage to New York, the Lusitania averaged 25.81 knots an hour.

GET $75,000;
SLAY SHERIFF

REIDON, Ala., Oct. 7.—Four masked robbers looted the First National Bank of this place late last night of $75,000 and shot Sheriff John Williams as he attempted to arrest them, and escaped on a head car of the Southern Railway.

The robbery was discovered by a citizen who saw four men in the darkness of the night. He called on the sheriff, who called on them to halt. Before he discovered the whereabouts of the robbers in the dark they opened fire on him.

WORRIED OVER COAL PROBE, TRIED TO DIE
George P. Koch, aged thirty-two years, a clerk in the purchasing department of the city of Boston, is at the City Hospital today recovering from an attempt to end his life by gas autoxidation at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Struble, No. 112 Paul Street, Jamaica Plain. Koch's attempt is attributed to worry over the investigation of the coal contracts by the city. He was a witness during the hearing.

CARMEN CHASE
BURGLAR PAIR WITH ELECTRIC

SHERIFF ARINGTON, Oct. 7.—Two burghers who attempted to rob the car barn of the Old Colony Street Railway Company at North Arlington early today were chased by three employees of the company in a trolley car.

The burglars leaped the trolley car for a long distance, but they were kept in view by means of the big electric searchlight of the trolley car. They managed to reach a side street and escape.

The burglars were the most persistent the North Arlington police have had to deal with. They were driven away repeatedly by employees, but returned to the attack and tried to get into the building by various means.

Factions Are to Argue Claims Wednesday BALLOT HEARING SET

Bartlett and Whitney Men Each
Hope Victory Before the Commission.

The Ballot Law Commission of the Commonwealth today fixed next Wednesday at 10 a. m. as the time for hearing the case of Henry M. Whitney and Charles W. Bartlett, who are in charge of the "red ticket" at the forthcoming election, called "Charles W. Bartlett and his associates vs. the State." The hearing will be held at the State House. The commission will decide either that the Whitney ticket or the Bartlett ticket is the official legal Democratic ticket, or it may decide that there has been no legal convention, and suggest that a convention be held. As yet, no decision has been reached by the commission. Both the Whitney and the Bartlett men feel that the commission will decide in favor of their candidate.

Both tickets filed.

Secretary Olin notified the Ballot Law Commission of the conflict of Henry M. Whitney and the full State ticket men filed in the Whitney convention was the first to be landed to Deputy Secretary of State Herbert Boynton. It was indicated to him as filed at 9:30 a. m.

A few minutes later Bartlett J. Kiley, chairman of the Democratic State Convention, accompanied by James A. Walton, who was in charge of the "red ticket" at the forthcoming election, called "Charles W. Bartlett and his associates vs. the State." The hearing will be held at the State House. The commission will decide either that the Whitney ticket or the Bartlett ticket is the official legal Democratic ticket, or it may decide that there has been no legal convention, and suggest that a convention be held. As yet, no decision has been reached by the commission. Both the Whitney and the Bartlett men feel that the commission will decide in favor of their candidate.

Two Sets of Democratic Papers
Filed To-day at the State House.

"Absence of the only legal ticket named at Springfield Saturday was that submitted at the convention over which I presided," said Charles W. Bartlett of New Bedford, who filed his ticket at the State House today.

Names of Many Public Officials Mentioned in Document as Having Secured Positions for Persons With Company—Twenty-four Counts Against Big Corporation.

Proceedings in the Superior Criminal Court revealed the fact that there were twenty-four counts in the secret indictments brought against the New England Telephone & Telegraph Company by the Grand Jury for alleged violation of the law in appointing men to salaried positions at the solicitation of politicians.

The names of twenty men who secured positions as sub-foremen in this way are given.

There was also revealed the startling fact that more than one member of the Common Council appointed himself to the position of sub-foreman and received money from the telephone company while serving the city of Boston as a public official.

Secured Many Positions.
It also developed that G. M. Clukkas, superintendent of streets of the city of Cambridge, was favored by the company in the appointment to positions of men whom he sent to them.

In the twenty-four counts in the indictment against the company, are given the names of the men appointed, it is charged, through the recommendation of a senator, a councilman or an alderman.

The instances given in the indictment are as follows:

- 1.—Fred Sharp, appointed sub-foreman on the recommendation of Alderman Baldwin, December 7, 1906.
- 2.—Unknown man, appointed sub-foreman, recommended by Alderman Curry, April 16, 1907.

Flirting Is a Crime No Matter What the Circumstances Are

By Winifred Black

A BRAVE man was murdered down in Pennsylvania the other day because he tried to defend a woman who was with him on the roadside for help.

And now the woman confesses that the two men who attacked and beat her had been following her for half an hour, and that she had looked at them with a steady gaze.

It was only in the night, she says, when she was alone in the car, that she thought of the crime. "I didn't mean any harm, and I didn't think the men meant any harm," she says. "I was just looking at them."

It is a pity that a woman of twenty-one years old, a respectable, sweet woman, who hasn't sense enough to know that to flirt with a stranger can possibly be harmless, was worth the death of a good man.

Is It Vanity?

WHAT uneasy pool of vanity is it that lures these scoundrel folk to women to make such idiots of themselves?

Have they no brothers or fathers to tell them what a woman who lures into a woman's face means by that look?

Have they no mothers to tell them that their own, whose names at least they know, are being ruined by the same Joazeboes who watch on the streets and in the parks for the sake of a woman's smile?

A Laugh Is as Good as a Barrel of Pills

AN INHUMAN WISH

It was a clergyman with a rare sense of humor who said that the only way to get a woman to love you was to make her laugh.

In one of the poorest parts of London, where the streets are so narrow and the houses so close together, there is a little shop where a man is selling pills.

The man is a Jew, and he is a very good-looking man. He is a very good-looking man, and he is a very good-looking man.

SACRED RIGHTS

The woman's main complaint was that the man was not a clergyman. He was a Jew, and he was a very good-looking man.

The man was a Jew, and he was a very good-looking man. He was a very good-looking man, and he was a very good-looking man.

A Thrilling Story of American Life by Brand Whitlock

CHAPTER II—Continued

Curly divided the money, gave Archie half and sent the rest to the bar. The bar was just as he had left it; the wreck of a man still bowed his head on his forehead, the cat was still curled about her kittens, Gibbs was still doing up the car, he took them and drove away, leaving the money on the table. The air of a man whose business is his life.

Expert Tells Women the Way to Preserve a Youthful Form and How to Get the Perfect Figure

By Beatrice Fairfax

Women, the women, and the women, with a tendency to get stout with variety add to her weight. There is in some people an inherited tendency to grow stout.

"I am fat," said a woman to a physical culturist, "though I do almost nothing at all. I do not eat one-half the food that other women eat, and I am as fat as butter, while the other women are as thin as a reed."

Feet

Feet are the foundation of the body. If the feet are not in good condition, the body will not be in good condition.

DEATH CRISIS ENDS RACE PORTLAND

Girl Killed, Man Fatally Hurt

in Runaway.

MAINE SOCIETY MOURNS

PORTLAND, Me., Oct. 7.—Today the death of Mrs. M. H. H. of New York City was mourned in the hospital, his skull fractured and his life hanging in the balance, as the result of the terrible accident at Newbury Heights, where Miss Elizabeth H. H. was killed, and which brought to an end a pretty little romance of which the two have been the central figures, in which Portland society has been deeply interested.

Mr. Harris and Miss H. H. were driving in Falmouth, a suburb of Portland, where their horse became frightened at an automobile and bolted on to a Major Central road crossing, directly in front of the Portland Race track. The carriage was smashed to splinters. Miss H. H. was killed instantly, and the driver, who was badly hurt, was taken to the hospital, where he is now lying, and is expected to recover.

The young man is a son of Benjamin F. Harris, a retired Portland merchant, and was one of the most prominent and successful business men in the city. He was a member of the Portland Yacht club, and was a very popular figure in the city. He was a native of New York, and had been in Portland for several years.

His death was a great loss to the city, and his friends are deeply mourning his death. His funeral will be held on Wednesday, and will be attended by a large number of friends. His remains will be taken to New York for burial.

Raise Funds in Boston Church to Aid Woman Who Offers Skin to Hospital

Spends relief has come to Mrs. Marcella Pasquon, the destitute wife of the former Italian diplomat, through the efforts of Rev. Herbert S. Johnson, pastor of the Warren Street Baptist Church, who has taken up a collection for her in the church and who wrote to Rev. Dr. Robert Stewart Matthews, pastor of Calvary Church of New York City.

If her need is as great as it appeared when she sought to sell her skin to the surgeons at Bethlem Hospital, she will be relieved.

For some time Mrs. Pasquon's plight in the Boston American's special department, when they met yesterday, and Mr. Johnson thought of an interesting way to help her.

"If the story is true and our church will for her and to that end I will take up a collection for her tonight," said Mr. Johnson, when told of the case.

Teach Children to Work.

"You ask me what I think is the chief cause for such destitutions existing in the world today, for there are doubtless hundreds on hundreds of them. I believe that one of the causes of so much poverty and destitution is due to the fact that fathers and mothers do not teach their children how to do things and to do that one thing well they can always find a market for their work. I am teaching my two daughters how to work, and if the time should ever come when I was unemployed, they would be able to take care of themselves."

Mr. Johnson said that if parents teach their children to do things, they will be able to support themselves, and that if they do not, they will be a burden to society. He said that he was teaching his two daughters how to work, and that if the time should ever come when he was unemployed, they would be able to take care of themselves.

Churches Willing to Aid.

"There is no need for any woman in the city of Boston to be in such straits, when the churches are willing and ready to lend a hand where there is honest industry. About seven per cent. of our churches are taking up a collection for her tonight, and are doing so to cover a regular salary of $100 per month."

Mr. Johnson said that he was teaching his two daughters how to work, and that if the time should ever come when he was unemployed, they would be able to take care of themselves.

Keep Away From Cities.

"Keep away from the cities," he said. "The struggle to get into big communities causes much of the poverty and suffering we have. There is such a flood of applicants that there is no room for anybody in any city. The only way to get out of the cities is to go to the country, where there is room for everybody. If you can't get out of the cities, you will be a burden to society."

Foreigners Handicapped.

"And again, a great deal of misery is caused by the great influx of foreigners. These people are often poor and uneducated, and they are often in competition with the native-born people. This causes much of the poverty and suffering we have."

Mr. Johnson said that he was teaching his two daughters how to work, and that if the time should ever come when he was unemployed, they would be able to take care of themselves.

His death was a great loss to the city, and his friends are deeply mourning his death. His funeral will be held on Wednesday, and will be attended by a large number of friends. His remains will be taken to New York for burial.

CONGALTON LEADER OF PILGRIMS

Cubs and Tigers Will Battle to Bitter End For World's Pennant

BEAUFORT HUB'S BEST BATSMAN

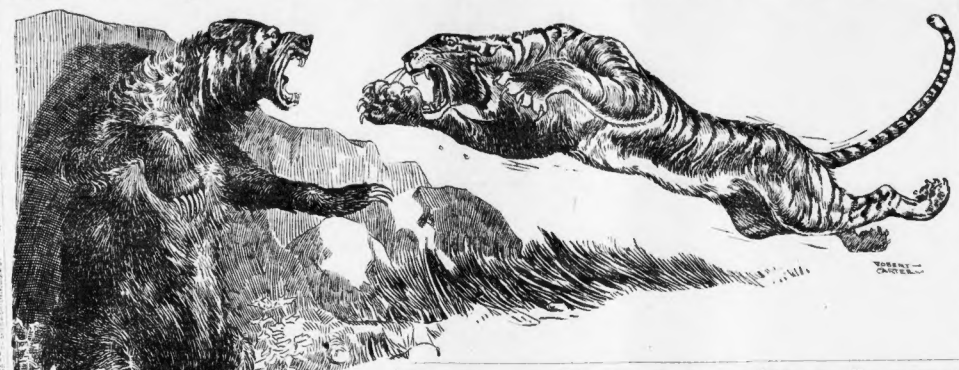

"Think Congalton is the real leading batter of the Pilgrims for the season with a mark of .327. There are others who have better marks, but their average does not count because they haven't played in enough games."

First Game in World's Series at Chicago To-morrow TIGERS AND CUBS CLASH

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—Detroit, winner of the American League pennant after one of the bitterest fights in the history of baseball, and Chicago, winner of the National League pennant for the second time, will meet tomorrow in the first game of the World's Series.

The Cubs, by reason of their early victory and probably also because of the fact that they were beaten by the White Sox last season, are the favorites in the betting. As high as 10 to 1 has been put on the Cubs, while the Tigers are at 10 to 1.
